

CTSI

UKWF AGM

30 March 2023

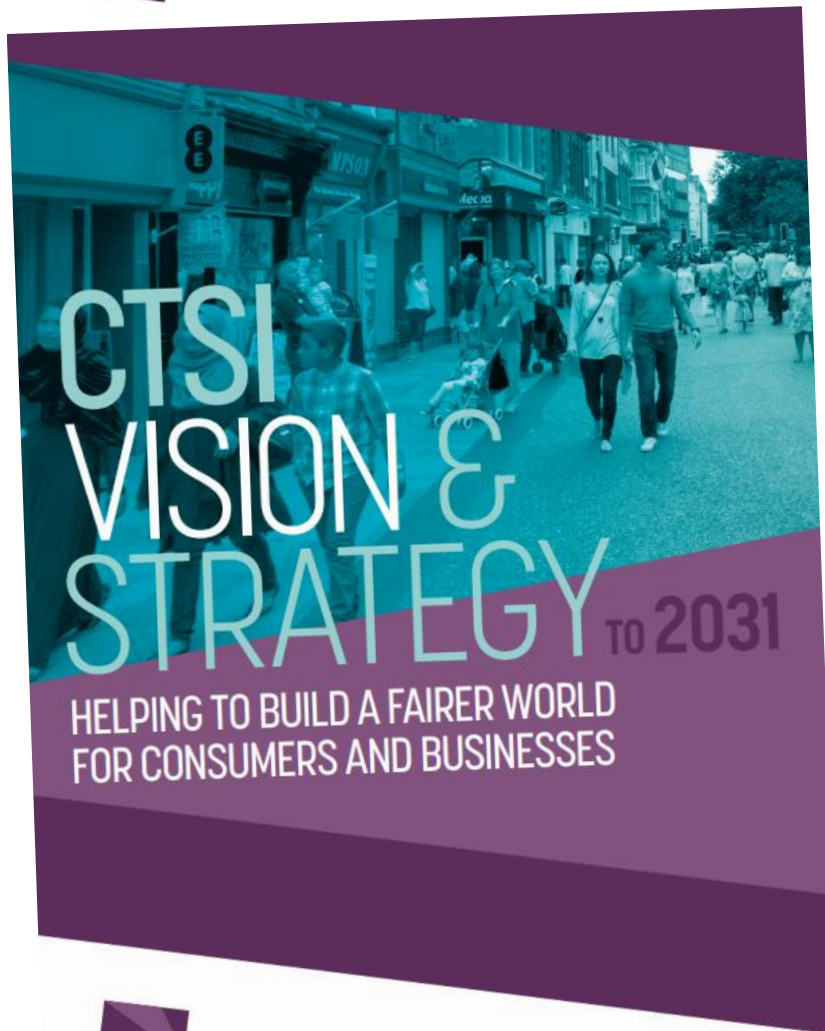

John Herriman

CTSI

- Only professional body for trading standards
 - Primary purpose as a membership organisation
 - Representing the profession e.g. campaigning and influencing
 - Education and CPPD
 - Secondary purpose delivering services that support members across all the sectors they operate in
- Landscape for consumers and business has never been more challenging

Context for Trading Standards

- Decline in trading standards capacity
 - Lack of a regulatory services resourcing strategy
 - Impact on weights and measures
 - Complexity of structures delivering trading standards
- Political instability
- EU exit
- UK Measurement Strategy
- Relevance of weights and measures

Vision

The UK prospers economically through fair and safe trade.

Mission

To support and reinforce the protection of consumers and to achieve a level playing field for business.

Strategic goals:

- Leading the profession
- Building our voice
- Becoming stronger together
- Delivering tangible change

Opportunities

- Campaigning and lobbying
 - Imperial measures
 - REUL Bill
- Raising the profile of the importance of weights and measures – National Quality Infrastructure
- Training for weights and measures
- Strategic partnership UKWF and CTSI

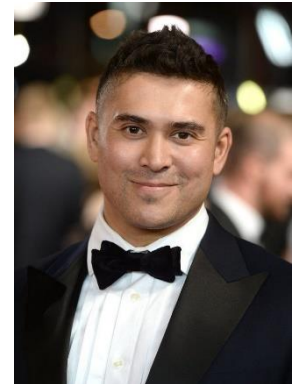

Conference 2023

Working in Partnership

- Free to attend for CTSI Members, 20-22 June 2023
- Confirmed speakers include: Kevin Hollinrake MP, Minister for Business, Enterprise, and Small Markets, Seema Malhotra, Shadow Minister, Jess Phillips MP, CTSI Vice President, Rav Wilding, Lord Lindsey
- CEOs of Competition and Markets Authority, Office for Product Safety and Standards, Animal and Plant Health Agency, plus Food Standards Agency and Intellectual Property Office
- CPD available - sessions from leading Barrister Chambers, and on topics including food standards, legal metrology, product safety, vaping, online marketplaces, net zero

CTSI

UKWF AGM

30 March 2023

John Herriman